SPECIAL EVENTS THIS MONTH

August 1st, 8th, 15th, 22nd, 29th. In the Kitchen Series: Mezze, Tapas, and Small Plates for Entertaining Guests: Guests will help prepare various dishes to prepare casual entertaining. Whether you're an experienced home cook or just beginning your culinary journey, this class is the perfect way to embrace spring's bounty in your own kitchen. $110/guest, reservations required.

August 5th: Zoo Encounters: Wild Adaptations: Join us for the next event in our Zoo Encounters series, where guests (ages 3 and up) can experience live animals up close in partnership with Roger Williams Park Zoo! In Wild Adaptations, we'll explore how animals have evolved to survive in various climates and environments. From the coldest tundras to the hottest deserts, we'll learn how different species adapt to their surroundings, build their homes, and develop unique structural and behavioral traits to thrive. Through live animal encounters, guests will witness the incredible diversity of survival strategies in the animal kingdom. This intimate experience is designed to respect the animals' sensitivity to noise, so attendance is limited. Enjoy cookies and lemonade, with a glass of sparkling wine available for adults. $25/Children ages 3 – 16, $32/Adult (age 17+) (plus tax & service fee).

August 5th: Making a Splash: Resort Fashions in New England 1870-1900: Join Rebecca Kelly, Executive Director and Curator of the South County Museum, as she explores the transformative role of New England's resort towns, from Newport to Watch Hill, in shaping the fashion landscape during the Gilded Age. In this illustrated lecture, Rebecca will highlight how these seaside destinations helped propel New York's sportswear industry, establishing a distinct fashion identity separate from Paris's haute couture. The lecture will focus on the rise of the "Gibson Girl" aesthetic—sporty American women dressed in simple shirtwaists and walking skirts, idealized as the epitome of athletic elegance for activities like golf, tennis, and carriage driving. Rebecca will also showcase the vibrant clothing and millinery shops in Rhode Island, spotlighting the enterprising women who ran them and the impact they had on the region's fashion scene. Reservations are required. Please note that tickets purchased for this event are non-refundable. $35/guests (plus taxes and fees).

August 6th: Ocean House Author Series: Beatriz Williams: Join us as Ocean House owner and award-winning author, Deborah Goodrich Royce moderates a conversation with a featured author. This week, New York Times bestselling author Beatriz Williams will be discussing (and signing) her latest novel Under The Stars. Tickets include wine, light bites, and a signed copy of the featured book, from Martin House Books. $45/person (plus tax & service charge).

August 11th: Zoo Encounters: Web of Life: Join us for the next event in our Zoo Encounters series, where guests (ages 3 and up) can experience live animals up close in partnership with Roger Williams Park Zoo! In Web of Life, we'll explore the delicate balance of a healthy ecosystem and how different organisms are interrelated. From predators to prey, plants to animals, guests will learn how multiple species rely on one another to maintain the stability of their environment. Through live animal encounters, we'll see firsthand how interconnected all living things truly are. This intimate experience is designed to respect the animals' sensitivity to noise, so attendance is limited. Enjoy cookies and lemonade, with a glass of sparkling wine available for adults. $25/Children ages 3 – 16, $32/Adult (age 17+) (plus tax & service fee).

August 19th: Zoo Encounters: Home Around the World: Join us for the next event in our Zoo Encounters series, where guests (ages 3 and up) can experience live animals up close in partnership with Roger Williams Park Zoo! In Homes Around the World, we'll explore the diverse habitats where animals live and who calls each place home. Attendees will have the chance to sort animals into their respective environments by identifying the special survival characteristics that help them thrive. From the rainforests to the savannahs, discover how animals have adapted to their unique homes. This intimate experience is designed to respect the animals' sensitivity to noise, so attendance is limited.
